October Respect Life Month

"Moved by Mercy"

Each year, Catholics across the country observe the month of October with devotions and pro-life activities in order to advance the culture of life. This is done through contemplation on the dignity and value of every human life, from its very earliest beginnings in the womb, until its inevitable natural end.

The theme of the 2016-2017 Respect Life Month is
"Moved by Mercy"

We believe that God, the Author of all life and creation, has created human beings in His image and likeness and has endowed each of us with a special dignity.

We believe that human life is sacred and must be respected and protected at all stages, from conception to natural death.

We believe that all Christians have a responsibility to participate in building a Culture of Life in their families, communities and in the world.

We must witness to the truth that every human life is a gift from God and fight to counter any and all threats to human life.

We must strive to help those who are in crisis and comfort those in loss, remembering that we are all sinners in need of forgiveness and healing.

We must respect and protect God's design for human sexuality and educate others about the beauty of His plan for marriage.

There are many activities planned around the country for Respect Life Month. For the clergy, this will mean a special emphasis on the life issues in their homilies and prayers. For everyone, this could mean praying for an end to abortion, and the death penalty.

I would like to encourage all of you to offer your prayers, especially your participation in the Holy Eucharist, Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, and your daily rosary for life. May our country become a beacon of hope for the whole world.

With God's blessing,
Fr. Jan

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

In the mid-1960s, many religious congregations that had maintained a custom of assigning new names to their members allowed a return to baptismal names. The practice stems from the origins of monastic life, when a desire to flee the world and its enchantments caused a severe break with family life and commitments. A new name signified that the old person had died and a new one was coming to life. Some orders even spread funeral palls over their entrants and tolled the funeral bell. On a practical level, in a crowded monastery of a few hundred monks or nuns, it made sense not to have six Brother Alfrics or nine Sister Clares. The one name, one person rule worked well.

In more recent times, a young woman entering the convent might be given her parents' names as a way of honoring their generosity, so Hilda might become Sister Philip Margaret after her father and mother. A cherished name in the order might be bestowed on a newcomer so that there would always be a Brother Owen around, or a young person might adopt the name of a beloved saint. A handful of religious congregations, like Mother Barat's Religious of the Sacred Heart, always used family names. Many monasteries still bestow a new name at the end of probation. Other religious institutes have revived the custom of changing their candidates' names at the end of novitiate, although for the most part religious who were around at the time of the Council were happy to get their baptismal names back. A few, of course, cherished their acquired names and have held on to them, so convents still hold the creativity badge for naming. Where else today can you find great names today like Madeleva, Siena, and Celestina?

WELL-READ?

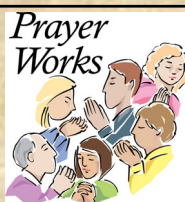

When the day of judgment comes, we shall not be asked what we have read, but what we have done.
