COUNCIL OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

Our parish has its own Knights of Columbus Council registered as "OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL - Council # 16654".

We are a vital part of well organized Catholic group that has 15,342 councils with 1.9 million members living in the United States and 16 other countries.

The Knights of Columbus international headquarters, Supreme Council Office, is located in New Haven, Connecticut. Led by the Supreme Knight, the chief executive officer of the Knights, the office provides administrative support and leadership for all local councils.

The Supreme Council has more than 75 state council organizations to help guide regional activities that are consistent with the principles of the Order.

Each state council is divided into districts - groupings of several local councils.

Local councils - like ours - are the basic units of the Knights. Most are based in parishes, though some have their own council hall within a community. Each local council works to assist with the needs of its community consistent with the principles of the Order. This local council evaluates the needs of their community and implements those programs and activities that are most needed in their area.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Not until the thirteenth century do we find a mention of a locked tabernacle. There's some evidence for eucharistic towers also, but often these were in an obscure corner of the church, or even in the off-limits sacristy. Many of us grew up "making visits" to Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament, but it's clear this would raise some medieval eyebrows in confusion! To the present day, the Eucharist is always reserved only in a side chapel in many cathedrals. The principal focus in a cathedral is always on the altar, symbol of Christ, and on the cathedra, symbol of the pastoral ministry of the bishop.

In your parish church there is probably a "sanctuary lamp," a permanently lit candle or oil lamp indicating the presence of the Blessed Sacrament. Sometimes it's in a red glass, not for any particular reason except that it's easy to find. There is a story of a bishop missioned to Papua New Guinea who was distressed to find no sanctuary lamps burning in his new diocese. The people patiently explained that their churches were woven of grass, and that they decided to place a chief's standard, a trident, in front of the tabernacle. That was a sign in their culture that the "chief" was at home, like raising the flag over Buckingham Palace. The bishop, an Irish import, didn't appreciate the British reference, so he ordered the candles back. The first church to burn to the ground was the cathedral, and after two more, the chief's tridents returned.

Q. What was God doing before He created everything?

A. Nothing. He could have been just thinking and loving. (God is three Persons who love each other.) We really don't know what went on before the creation of the world except that God was perfectly happy and was so good that He wanted to share the life and happiness of His three Persons. So He made the world with us in it. He had a lot of things to decide.

The real answer to your question is that in God there is no "before" or "after" only "now." We can't imagine that. It's like a square circle or a stick with only one end. Don't be disappointed if you can't understand time and eternity. Just say to yourself that God knows all about it and that you will know more about it when you get to heaven.
