THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT THE HOLY TRINITY

By Jimmy Akin

“National Catholic Register”

The Church teaches that the Holy Trinity is the central mystery of the Christian Faith. But how much do we know about this mystery and what does it mean?

Here are few things to know and share...

1. What is the Holy Trinity?

The Compendium of the Catechism of the Catholic Church explains it this way:

The Church expresses her trinitarian faith by professing a belief in the oneness of God in whom there are three Persons: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

The three divine Persons are only one God because each of them equally possesses the fullness of the one and indivisible divine nature.

They are really distinct from each other by reason of the relations which place them in correspondence to each other.

The Father generates the Son; the Son is generated by the Father; the Holy Spirit proceeds from the Father and the Son [CCCC 48].

2. How can we show that the Father is God?

The Father is proclaimed as God numerous times in the New Testament. For example, St. Paul declares:

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort [2 Co. 1:3].

There is...one God and Father of us all, who is above all and through all and in all [Eph. 4:4-6].

3. How can we show that the Son is God?

This is proclaimed in a variety of places in the New Testament, including at the beginning of the Gospel of John:

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth; we have beheld his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father [Jn 1:1, 14].

And later:

Then [Jesus] said to Thomas, “Put your finger here, and see my hands; and put out your hand, and place it in my side; do not be faithless, but believing.”

Thomas answered him, “My Lord and my God!” [Jn 20:27-28].

4. How can we show that the Holy Spirit is God?

In the book of Acts, the Holy Spirit is portrayed as a divine Person who speaks and who can be lied to: “While they were worshiping the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, “Set apart for me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them” [Acts 13:2].

But Peter said, “Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart to lie to the Holy Spirit and to keep back part of the proceeds of the land? You have not lied to men but to God” [Acts 5:3-4].

A QUESTION OF FAITH

It is never a question with any of us of faith or no faith; the question always is, “In what or in whom do I put my faith?”

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

It is often heard that today's observance is an "idea feast," and that it is somewhat difficult to grasp its meaning. Other great solemnities, such as Christmas and Easter, have an easily grasped core. Yet, even though the Trinity is at the heart of our faith, firmly declared in the Creed since the Council of Nicea in 325, we are used to having people shrug and say, "Well, it's a mystery."

Perhaps it is more helpful to think of this as a "relationship feast," since it unveils our deepest identity. Dorothy Day was a great social reformer, pacifist, and ardent lover of the Trinity. When people told her that she would certainly be canonized one day (the process is indeed underway), she protested dismissively by remarking that people were raising a fuss just because she was not afraid to talk about God. She loved the Trinity, and treasured the traditional icon for the feast, also known as "The Hospitality of Abraham," depicting the three angelic beings seated at a table tilted toward the viewer and laden with bread and wine. For her, the Trinity revealed the heart of the Catholic life, three C's if you will: community, communication, and communion. That was not an "idea" for her, but what it means to be created in the image of the Triune God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

Q. Ex Cathedra What does ex cathedra really mean in practice to you? How much latitude do you see in your understanding of the Bible and practice of worship? Do you see it as an admission of potential errancy or as attempt to provide disambiguation to it?

Catholic Answers

1. A clear statement by the Pope defining a doctrine that is to be believed by all the faithful everywhere, which is always infallible; and
2. A statement as to a particular fact, which may be mistaken (e.g., the Pope may say, "It's raining outside", when in fact it is sunny)

A possible case in which a Pope was mistaken as to a particular fact is Pope Adrian I, who seems to have been under the false impression that the canons of the Council of Trullo had been adopted by the Sixth Ecumenical Council, which was not the case. The Church intends. If there the community/church does not believe in the Real Presence there can be no proper intention.
