Reflection

August 6, 2017 - Feast of the Transfiguration of the Lord

The Book of Daniel, from which our First Reading is drawn, was written some two centuries before the birth of Christ. This is only significant in that many of the prophets (Daniel is considered one of the Major Prophets) lived as many as six centuries before Christ. However, regardless the timeline, we need to be moved by and appreciative of the prophecies we find in the Old Testament. In the particular passage in today's reading it states, "The one like a Son of Man received dominion, glory, and kingship."

Today, of course, is the Feast of the Transfiguration of the Lord, and this reading very much parallels what is portrayed in the Transfiguration. The interesting point within this reading from Daniel, however, is that it refers to the "Son of Man," which is the term Jesus Himself used most often to describe Himself. In fact, the term "Son of Man" occurs 85 times in the Gospels, and in 83 of them it is Jesus who uses the term. (It appears 32 times in Matthew; 15 times in Mark; 26 times in Luke; and 12 times in John, and it is in John where it is used twice by someone other than Jesus.)

The important point for us is that Jesus calling Himself the Son of Man explains that He was born of a woman, and He shares in our earthly conditions and sufferings. That fact should make us want to embrace Him as our Savior, our Friend, and our Shepherd even more.

STEWARDSHIP PRAYER

Almighty God, we thank you for all the gifts You have given us: our lives, our loved ones, all that we have and all that we are. Most of all, we thank you for Jesus, your Son and our Redeemer, who came among us to show us the way to eternal life. Jesus was the perfect steward of your gifts, showing that complete trust in You is necessary, and that giving of self is a most important part of following Him. May the offerings of our time, our talents, and our material resources be made in the same spirit of sacrifice that Jesus taught us by His life and death for us. Amen.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

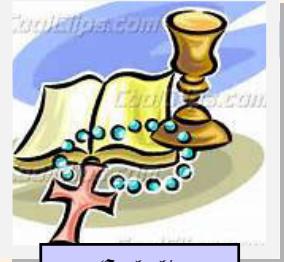

As the Latin Mass evolved in the first six centuries, the central prayer, what the Greeks called the anaphora and what we call today the Eucharistic Prayer, became fairly standard almost everywhere in the West. What we now know as Eucharistic Prayer I, or the Roman Canon, took a complex shape, not at all like the fluid and spontaneous prayers of early Rome, but a real architectural construction.

The city of Rome was in a terrible condition by that time, and a series of political upheavals, plagues, and invasions swept through. Not much of Rome's former glory was left standing, except for the pope, who became a symbol of protection and hope for the troubled people. The structures of law and administration were swept away in the chaos, and the pope gradually assumed authority to restore and maintain order. Soon, the public liturgy of Rome became the city's only glory. The Romans wanted "good order" not only in their civic life, but in their liturgy. One prayer, increasingly enriched by music (although when the music tried to overtake the prayer the pope banned musical instruments entirely) was the new rule of the day. That one prayer, the Roman Canon, was solidly in place when the first liturgical book we have, the Leonine Sacramentary of 540, was compiled.

Q. I was raised in a Pentecostal home, but I am a very recent convert to the Catholic faith (I was baptized this past Easter).

Catholic Answers 29

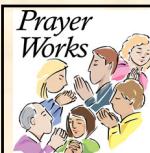

Since I was converted, I have been attending mass and, immediately afterward, going to my parents' Pentecostal service with them. The decision to continue going to their church was based on my own worry that they might think our faiths were opposed in some way, or that we could no longer share our faith lives at some level. Most of my family, especially my parents, assume doctrine does not matter and instead it only matters that you have faith. I'm worried that my attendance reinforces that idea.

A. There doesn't seem to be a specific official Catholic admonition for what you are asking. You sound like an informed Catholic and are strong in your faith. I agree that your continued presence at your family's church does reinforce your family members' notion that doctrine does not matter.

Perhaps you might share with them that the Mass you attend is not just another religious service and that you sincerely believe that there is nothing on the face of the earth that can compare with what happens on the altar—and that this has been happening for over 2000 years.

You know your family better than I and what would impress and not insult. But sharing the uniqueness what you have found might be what the Lord is asking of you--at a moment when they are most likely to be a little open to it.

We will keep you and your family in prayer.
