UNITED STATES CONFERENCE OF CATHOLIC BISHOPS

The Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD)

There are over 46 million people in the United States living in poverty. It is true that poverty challenges us daily in this country, but it also presents an opportunity for true encounter and solidarity with the poor so the joy and hope of the Gospel can be brought to those who are in great need.

In 1970, the Catholic bishops of the United States started “The Campaign for Human Development” also known as “CCHD”. This initiative brings Catholic social teaching to life by funding community and economic development programs across the United States that help poor and marginalized people join together to make decisions, seeking solutions to local problems, and finding ways to improve their lives and neighborhoods. CCHD also provides educational opportunities for Catholics to learn about poverty, stand in solidarity with those affected by it, and reflect on their own responsibility before the great need of others.

How can we be involvement and make a difference?

1. By learning more about poverty. CCHD offers awareness programs to learn more about those affected by poverty, and our responsibilities as members of the Church. For more information please visit www.povertyusa.org.

2. By praying for those who give and receive CCHD support, in thanksgiving for generous donors, and by asking support for those struggling.

3. And by supporting a special annual collection.

Our donations collected next weekend will empower local communities and strengthen families who are on the margins. People with disabilities will find affordable and supportive housing. Men and women reentering society after incarceration will have the opportunity to learn new skills, and community agriculture projects will receive grants to become sustainable.

We thank you in advance for your generous support. Special envelopes are inserted in today’s bulletin for your convenience. Please make your check payable to OLGC with “The Catholic Campaign For Human Development” or simply “CCHD” on the memo line.

By supporting this collection we give people a hand up, not a hand out.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

We had sixteen hundred years' experience with one Eucharistic Prayer in our repertoire, and the liturgical reforms of the Council of Trent shaped the way we worshiped for four hundred years. In the last years of the Tridentine Mass, the early 1960s, we tended to see children as miniature adults. Fully rooted in the Sunday assembly by the decision of Pope Saint Pius X to push Communion back to the age of seven or so from the standard age of twelve to fourteen years during the early 1900s, children were still more tolerated than acknowledged. The Mass was in Latin, and by the 1960s the people had begun to regain their voices in the "dialogue Mass," so the focus was on training little children to recite or sing in Latin.

The new attention to the experience of children, their ability to enter into ritual, their spontaneity, their ability to grasp key concepts in faith, felt "untraditional." Yet we can trace in our tradition the ways in which children have long been given a special place in the assembly. From earliest times, boys have served in choirs and certain ministries in monasteries and in parish churches. Girls were sometimes entrusted to nuns, learning liturgical chants and the arts. Yet, in our day, the formation of a Lectionary for children and Eucharistic Prayers suited to them are truly tremendous breakthroughs in our treasury of prayer.

Q. Was my childhood baptism valid?

A When I was one year old I was stung by a nest of bees. My mother a then-practicing Catholic baptized me with water and with the trinitarian formula. I think she wanted to eventually baptize me in the Church; but, due to objections by my Protestant father, did not.

As an adult, I now wish to become a Catholic. Is my baptism valid? I also have a toddler son I wish to raise as a Catholic

Catholic

A Assuming that the reason your mother baptized you was because she feared for your life, the baptism you have described was both valid and licit (i.e., permitted). When a child below the age of reason is in danger of death, anyone may baptize the child even if one or both parents object:

"An infant of Catholic parents, indeed even of non-Catholic parents, may in danger of death be baptized even if the parents are opposed to it (canon 868 §2, Code of Canon Law)."

When a child who is given emergency baptism later recovers, the usual procedure is to take the child to a church so that a priest or deacon can "supply the ceremonies" omitted in the emergency baptism and record the fact of the baptism in the parish's sacramental records. If this was never done for you, that means that your baptism was never recorded. Thus, even though you were validly and licitly baptized, your pastor will probably advise a conditional baptism.

As for your son, all you need do is to request baptism for him.
