14th Walk for Life in San Francisco (Saturday, January 27, 2018)

One of biggest threats to life is abortion. Each day around 4,000 unborn children lose their lives to this horrible procedure. Many of these 4000 young women turn to abortion because they feel they have no other choice. Some of these reasons include feeling threatened that their boyfriends or spouses may abandon them, or that their parents have said a baby would ruin their lives, or because they were told over and over again the big lie that abortion is a safe, simple, and convenient solution.

To change the perceptions of a society that thinks abortion is an answer, the Walk for Life West Coast movement has been created. Since its inception in 2005, it reminds us that abortion does violence to women and to their children and divides families and society.

San Francisco is the seat of the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals. It's among the most important legislating circuits in the country and largely influential on advancing liberal case-law. The Walk for Life sends a vocal and visual message to that court that people of the West Coast stand for life. It is a great opportunity to manifest the truth about the abortions and to inspire many people, especially young Catholics to become pro-life activist and leaders. This movement attracts both teens and college students and provides an unmatched opportunity for evangelization.

Last year the Walk for Life -West Coast – now the second largest pro-life rally in the United States – drew a crowd of 50,000+ people. This year, crowds are expected to be even bigger.

Join our Knights of Columbus, fellow Catholics and Pro-Lifers from all over California and beyond as they stand up for the littlest among us.

Be part of something huge in our generation. Affecting public policy that ends abortion really is a matter of life and death.

The 2018 Walk for Life West Coast will begin next Saturday, JANUARY 27th at 12:30PM at Civic Center Plaza in San Francisco. Following the rally, participants will walk 2 miles down Market to Justin Herman Plaza/Ferry Building. There is BART close by at both locations. For more information see the flyer in the vestibule or go online www.WalkforLifeWC.com

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

One of the most unusual Catholic churches in the world is in Amsterdam: Our Lord in the Attic, or as the locals say, "Ons Lieve Heer op Solder." What looks like a beautiful narrow brick mansion alongside a canal is a clever disguise for a very well-preserved seventeenth-century home and a secret church. During the Reformation, the Netherlands was divided into Protestant Holland and the Spanish Netherlands, now known as Belgium, a Catholic stronghold. Protestant reformers seized all the Catholic parishes in Holland and "de-Catholicized" them. New laws forbade the celebration of the Mass in public. St. Nicholas Church was renamed "Old Church" by the new owners, and the dispossessed Catholics got to work "hiding" St. Nicholas Parish in the upper floors of this mansion. Other Catholics did the same thing, but this is the only hidden church that survives today. Sunday Mass is still celebrated here.

It's a beautiful hideaway, with nothing spared in regard to marble, gilding, a pipe organ, and classic Dutch painting. A few steps away, the Old Church, begun in 1250, stands emptied of the statues and carvings of its Catholic days, its windows replaced by plain glass. The new tenants gave up when it came to the ceiling, which is still painted with saints, biblical scenes, and merchant ships. The Dutch reformers were tolerant sorts, and as long as the Catholics kept out of sight, they were out of mind. Catholicism was at last tolerated in Holland after 1853, but in 1924 when the International Eucharistic Congress was held in Amsterdam, processions of Catholics were still forbidden in the streets. Today, Roman Catholics are about 19 percent of the population, and there's no need for any of them to hide in the attic.

PLEASE HELP KEEPING OUR LITTLE CHURCH CLEAN INSIDE AND OUT

Q. . If the Blessed Mother is really appearing in Medjugorje, Yugoslavia, why hasn't the Church told us more about these apparitions?

Catholic Answers

A. Because the Church in general and prudent editors in particular are reluctant to set forth as established Catholic faith what is only the statement of an ordinary fallible human being or beings. People who say God spoke to them or that the Blessed Mother appeared to them may certainly be telling the truth. But there are so many of them with such conflicting messages that the Church must wait to see what the results of such private revelations will be. In the case of Lourdes and Fatima, the Church eventually approved the devotions which were rooted in what children said the Blessed Virgin told them. But approval came because the results of these apparitions were so good, not because the Church felt any obligation to listen to what pious children said. Saints with visions get canonized but not as quickly as less spectacular saints. St. Margaret Mary (of the Sacred Heart devotion) was not canonized for two centuries, but down-to-earth St. Therese of the Child Jesus was elevated to sainthood very soon, as such things go, after her death. In speaking of visionaries in general, Catholic and Protestant, questions about their mental health must be answered, since-as both Monsignor Ronald Knox in Enthusiasm and William James in Varieties of Religious Experience have pointed out-a good many of them end up with the conviction that they are God.
